

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

Devoted to the Social and Moral Advancement of Irish Americans and Catholics Officially Indorsed by Ancient Order of Hibernians, Young Men's Institute and Catholic Knights of America.

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN PRINTING CO., Incorporated, Publishers
Subscription Price One Dollar Per Year, Single Copy 5c

Entered at the Louisville Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

Address All Communications to the KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN, 319-321 West Liberty Street.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1921

SIMPLE INDEED.

As a part of the propaganda in this country which looks to the cancellation of the debt which Great Britain owes to America, we are told that Germany can not pay the indemnities imposed upon her. And if Germany can not pay, Italy and France can not repay their loans from Great Britain; then if they can not pay Great Britain can not pay her debt of ten billions to us. Therefore the simplest way out would be the cancellation of the ten billion dollar debt. It is all very simple. Meanwhile Great Britain goes on spending billions for increasing her navy. Lloyd George is able to pay a pound a day with half as much more for night raids to the Black and Tans who are devastating Ireland. But Great Britain can not pay her debt to America! No interest has yet been paid on it at any rate. We have obligingly remitted that and the money that should have been paid to us is used to maintain the worst type of militarism in Ireland. If we could only be induced to remit the whole debt, then that much more could be expended to complete the ruin of Ireland. Again, it is all very simple.

If the Kaiser had only discovered this very simple way of carrying on war he might now be monarch of Europe. And the wonder is that he did not discover it and apply it long ago. It was left to Lloyd George to bring into international affairs this simple method of paying debts. Get the interest remitted for a number of years, use it up in crushing liberty in a neighboring nation and in building up a giant navy, and then discover that ability to repay the original loan will depend on the ability of other nations to pay Great Britain! But the ability of Great Britain to squander billions in attempting to hold Ireland in subjection is never questioned. Oh, no. That is an entirely different matter. We understand. It is all very simple indeed.

EXAMPLE OF ANARCHY.

No better example of the anarchy that prevails in the British establishment in Ireland has appeared than that furnished by the cable news from Dublin which appeared in many American newspapers. On Sunday, the cables tell us, the military in several armored lorries fired on the congregation as they emerged from the Dublin Cathedral, wounding very many and killing outright one boy. Almost at the same time the military attacked and burned St. Edna's School in a Dublin suburb, driving the families who occupied a wing of the building into the street, among the latter being a British officer and his wife and two children, who had a narrow escape. From other centers like celebrations of the Christian Sabbath by the forces of the Crown are reported. In Cork on Monday a man named Murphy was shot by the soldiers for the awful crime of possessing an old and useless fowling piece. In Cork City a house to house search was made by the military and money and other valuables removed; and ten members of the Corporation were arrested a few minutes after re-electing Lord Mayor O'Callaghan. Thus does English civilization assert itself in Ireland.

REVOLUTION THREATENED.

Some weeks ago, in commenting on the news of barricades being set up in London, we remarked that it was not against Sinn Féiners the barricades were built, as the British news agencies would have us believe, but against the discontented workers of England. The news to hand proves that our view was correct. Chances occur almost daily between the hungry and hapless workers of London and the police, and only that the workers are still nothing more than mere mobs acting on the spur of the moment, the case would be serious. It is, however, within the range of possibility that a leader of the multitude shall arise to direct the assaults on the barricades. London contains many, many ex-servicemen, whom the pinch of hunger may force into the forefront of the discontented class, and with the example of the crown's forces in Ireland before them it is reasonably certain that, unless something is done to relieve the situation, London will witness an orgy of rioting and looting that may bring the class government toppling to the ground. If there be no improvement in the outlook of the great mass of the workers within the next three months we may look for, at least, an attempt at revolution.

SAVAGE SENTENCE.

The savage sentence passed on Father Dominic for the high crime of having in his possession some notes of the messages the martyred Lord Mayor McSwiney sent from Brixton prison to his friends and which have been published already, throws a strong light on the purpose of the British authorities in imposing martial law on Ireland. That purpose, it is now understood, was not to promote "order," but to supply a ready means to remove any person who thwarted the designs of the conscienceless authorities. For it would be ridiculous to believe that Father Dominic was court-martialed for the reason given. But the good father spoiled a telling bit of British propaganda in the making, for by his constant attendance on Lord Mayor McSwiney he exploded the theory of suicide, which the British apologists had so carefully concocted as applying to the Lord Mayor's sacrifice. This is really the cause of the priest's being sent to penal servitude like a common felon. What does the world think of a government that stoops to such acts of petty vengeance?

HARDING AND CABINET.

If the published list of President-elect Harding's selections for Cabinet positions be correct, then it is safe to say that the next administration will be as pro-British as its predecessor. Why it is necessary to cater to British sentiment in the selection of our high public officials is not quite clear to the man in the street. The "hidden hand" that controls nominations of course controls the appointments to high positions, and will ultimately wreck the Republic unless the people are alert. Anti-British sentiment was responsible for Harding's immense majority at the polls, but unless the people follow up this by carefully noting every move of the new administration and making their influence and their power felt in government circles, then they can not complain if they find that foreign influences control the administration to the detriment of American ideals and America's best interests.

FALSE ALARM.

That wages will be lower than they were during the era of high prices is taken for granted. But we do not believe that the railroads of the country are threatened with bankruptcy unless they are permitted to abrogate all agreements and lower wages at once. We suggest that they lower rates in proportion to the cut they propose in wages. Even if they are not able to pay 6 per cent. on their stock they are not necessarily on the road to bankruptcy. We wonder how many farmers in the Middle West and South made 6 per cent. on their investment last year. Most of them lost more than 6 per cent. The railroads should not expect all the profits.

WHO IS BENEFICIARY?

The mails are being flooded with propaganda against a larger navy and army for the United States. There are only two countries who oppose an increasing army and navy for this country and they are England and her ally, Japan. Doesn't it sound plausible that these two would be the beneficiary of our unprepared condition in case of war, and the above propaganda might be traced to that source. The cost of a week's war would more than offset the proposed increase in military strength, and furthermore no trust can be placed in hypocritical John Bull and the tricky Jap.

TAKE HEED.

In our churches there will be special Lenten devotions to enable all to spend the season of Lent in a profitable manner. Do not neglect the Lenten devotions. Spend the holy season as though it were the last Lent. Many of us will be judged before another Lent.

GOV. COX STRONGER.

It is significant that in the picture shows whenever the picture of Gov. Cox is shown the recent Democratic Presidential nominee receives thousands of applause, while when President-elect Harding's picture is shown quite the opposite is noted. This can be taken to mean that Gov. Cox is now stronger in the affections of the American people and will be heard from again. Again it may mean that the present spell of hard times is being charged against Harding and his corporation backers.

BRITAIN PEEVED.

The newspapers of England are peevish at America refusing to cancel England's war debt to this country, despite the fact that John Bull, as usual, grabbed lots of territory and will receive an enormous indemnity in money from Germany. Although our recent Allies received much out of the war some one has wisely remarked that the United States only received prohibition and influenza.

APPROVES CATHOLIC POSITION.

The Council of the Churches of Christ in America, representing thirty-one Evangelical churches, has declared its own convictions about the closed shop to be "in thorough accord with the recent utterances of the National Catholic Welfare Council." So we learn from America. The Catholic attitude on this subject we both discussed and defended in these columns in a number of former editions.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

In the list of divorces granted every week in the local courts 90 per cent. furnish the same prologue—they were married in Jeffersonville by a Squire.

Barring the movies on Sunday is senseless—if they are morally clean. Permitting them any time is criminal if they are morally unclean.

HEARS IRELAND'S STORY.

Tuesday night a large and intelligent audience heard uncensored and convincingly told the real conditions and Black and Tan savagery now prevailing throughout Ireland. Rev. Father John O'Connor presided, and occupying seats on the stage were Rev. J. P. O'Connell, Rev. Patrick Walsh, Rev. Martin O'Connor, Rev. Francis Martin, Owen Sullivan, Thomas Walsh and Secretary Robert E. Heeslon.

The Irish fight for freedom is a political and economic one in which both Catholics and Protestants are joined," the Rev. Maurice L. Murphy, pastor of the Anglican church, Dublin, Ireland, declared in a speech delivered in the auditorium of Holy Rosary Academy. The meeting was held under the auspices of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

The speaker asserted that citizens of Ireland owing allegiance to the Irish Republic are persecuted alike whether Catholics or of other religions. He said the people are standing together and have established their own government, despite all the efforts of England to prevent it. The unfavorable attitude of the press and opponents of the recognition of the Irish Republic was largely due to the work of Lord Northcliffe who expended $150,000,000 subsidizing American newspapers, and the English unbridled ownership of industries in the United States. His revelation of the propaganda work and the mutilation of American history and school books caused real surprise and indignation. He believed 98 per cent. of the pro-British sentiment existing in this country was purely because of the propaganda launched by England, and was palpably destructive of American interests.

Referring to the murder and outrages of men, women and children, the burning of homes and the destruction and robbery of homes by the English Black and Tans and army of occupation, he declared their reign was one of most barbarous and savage cruelty, in comparison with which the repressive measures of the Hun in Belgium pale into insignificance. Under the domination of England, Rev. Murphy asserted the population of Ireland has decreased from 8,000,000 to 4,000,000 people. He forecast an increase to 20,000,000 when Ireland establishes her complete independence. The speaker declared that censorship over the acts of British forces in Ireland has been maintained and that many atrocities have been committed that have not been told the outside world. In spite of it all, he declared, the spirit of the Irish has not been affected. In conclusion Dr. Murphy appealed to Americans to aid in securing recognition for the Irish Republic and beware the treachery of England, which would involve this country in another war, Apollonia during his talk was frequent and hearty.

In response to the appeal of Cardinal Gibbons and his associates for relief for the suffering men and women of Ireland it was voted to create a committee headed by Owen Sullivan to conduct the campaign. After brief remarks by Rev. Father Walsh, Owen Sullivan, Rev. Martin O'Connor and others the chairman, Rev. John O'Connor, announced a number of generous contributions.

Rev. Father Cronin, V. G., created much enthusiasm when he announced that the proceeds of the St. Patrick's day entertainment of his parish would go to swell the relief fund. Chairman Owen Sullivan is now working out a program and selecting his committee, which will soon be made public.

AMERICAN CARDINAL.

The Associated Press cables from Rome that with the nearer approach of the assembling of the Sacred College the question as to who will be named the new American Cardinal is being discussed with added interest. Two names, it was noted, are being mentioned with increasing frequency in connection with the appointment. One of them is the Most Rev. Dennis J. Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, and the other that of the Most Rev. George W. Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago.

SOCIETY.

Joseph O'Neal, who has been spending a short time in Washington, returned home Tuesday.

Miss Rita Fannigan spent a pleasant week-end with Miss Nell Kenney, Parkview.

Miss Gertrude Langen, who has been visiting in Kansas City, has returned home.

Miss Marcella Coll, Jeffersonville, was host for the regular meeting of the Tri-Kappa Sorority.

George Garrity is recovering from his recent injury and will return to work next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Noonan have gone to Richmond, Va., where they will make their home in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Napper, of Valley Station, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed O'Connell, Highland Park, last week.

Mrs. Fred Dineen, Mrs. John Carr and daughter, Emma V. Carr, of Portland, have returned home from Southern Indiana.

Wm. Reddington returned Thursday from New Orleans, where he attended the Mardi Gras celebration and the winter races.

Mrs. Charles J. Tahan, 2127 West Broadway, had a pleasant visit last week as the guest of Mrs. Walter Cushing in Oakdale.

William Fitzgerald, of Mammoth Cave, was the guest the past week of his daughter, Mrs. Clifford Staples, Highland Park.

Frank Blanford, who was operated on at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, is at his home in Crescent Hill and almost fully recovered.

Mrs. Mary Peely, of 119 North Twenty-sixth street, is spending a pleasant month at Dayton, Ohio, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mary Keef.

Mrs. Mary G. Mullen has returned from St. Louis, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Robert Emmet Callahan, and Mr. Callahan.

Miss Helen Malone has been spending a short time in Indianapolis, where she attended a house party given by Mrs. E. V. Gartland.

Joseph Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Foley, of Sixth street, one of Chicago's leading sport writers, was here Monday and Tuesday on a visit.

Miss Winnie Coughlin, of Trenton, Mo., has returned home after several weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. E. R. Downey, 4725 Southern Parkway.

Little Miss Mary Driscoll, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Driscoll, was operated on for tonsil trouble at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital on Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Hunt left last week to visit Mrs. Harry Bishop, of Columbus, Ga. She later will be to Savannah to visit her niece, Mrs. Edward Maloney.

Matt Boyle, who was called here by the death of his sister, Mrs. John Burns, has ended a visit with his sister, Mrs. Margaret Shea, and returned to Pittsburgh.

The many friends of Jos. Hub-buch, Sr., will be glad to learn that he is recovering nicely from his operation at St. Joseph's Infirmary, and is being removed.

Mrs. Mary McMahon announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Catherine Lillian McMahon, to George W. Canary. The wedding will take place in April.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Klaphke announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Emma Klaphke, to William J. Sandman. The wedding will take place in the spring.

In the presence of friends and relatives the marriage of Miss Louise Paschek and R. Walter Krieke was solemnized Saturday at the St. Louis Bertrand church. The Rev. A. A. Heenan, O. P., performed the ceremony. They are now in the East on their honeymoon trip.

Miss Alice Cronin entertained last week in honor of Frank Sullivan, of Memphis, Tenn. Miss Cronin's guests were Misses Hattie Rowland, Annie Fitzgerald, Mary Fitzgibbon, Messrs. Frank H. Sullivan, George Holbourne, William Muss, Joseph Green, Clem W. Huggins, Brent Alfred, Maurice Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hannan announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Bessie Hannan, to Dr. Carlisle Rudell. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

Mrs. Mary McMahon announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Catherine Lillian McMahon, to George W. Canary. The wedding will take place in April.

Mrs. Anna H. Wagner, of 932 Sixth street, announces the marriage of her son and daughter on last Tuesday. Miss Margaret Wagner was married to Roy A. Coburn in St. Louis Bertrand church rectory at 7 o'clock. Rev. Father R. G. Lyons performing the ceremony. Henry Earl Wagner was united in marriage to Miss Margaret A. Drum at the same hour in Detroit, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. M. C. Coughlin entertained with a farewell party on Thursday evening, February 11, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Mary Whalen, who left Sunday for Chicago, her future home. These present were Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Dugan, Frank Elvin, Chas. Elvin, Lewis Booming, Thos. J. McDonough, Robert Davis, Leonard Hayes, John Karcher, M. C. Coughlin, Mary Schuck, C. J. Murphy, Misses Mayne, Davern, Bessie Schuck, Mollie Quill, Mayne Whalen, Agnes McDonough, Margaret Hayes, Nellie Hayes, Catherine Hayes and Messrs. Sam McFarland, Leonard Hayes and William Whalen.

MONTHLY MEETING.

The monthly business meeting of St. Helena's Co-operative Club will be held Monday night at President's Academy Auditorium, Fourth and Brookbridge. Many matters of interest will be discussed, therefore all members should attend. Last Sunday the Dramatic Circle mounted another scene in "The Roman Curia" at St. Helena's, the dramatic proceeds to St. Francis College at St. Paul's. Enclosed by the favorable reception of their initial plays, the young ladies of the Dramatic Circle are now throwing all their energies into a play to be presented some time in May for the benefit of their proposed club house.

ORGANIZE AT DANVILLE.

A local branch of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic has been organized in Danville by Capt. John A. Geary, of Lexington. Officers of the new organization are: Dr. J. E. Geary, President; Miss Annie Dugan, Secretary; and T. P. Clarke, Vice President.

PROUD OF ALTAR.

The people of Holy Name church, Third and O streets, of which Rev. John O'Connor is the energetic and zealous pastor, are proud of work being done in that imposing edifice. The interior has just been beautified by the Al-decco method, the only church south of the Ohio river thus decorated, and has its new marble altar—the main altar—in position, but the large picture at the back is yet to be placed. The altar is very handsome, cut of a solid block of Carrara marble, the mowing in two ways making it appear almost two shades. The center will be a mosaic of the crucifixion, which is now being made. The altar is very imposing with a solid bronze tabernacle, and is one the congregation can well be proud of. Father O'Connor hopes by spring to have the smaller side altars in place. Six massive candlesticks of onyx and bronze, costing almost $1,000, are a gift from the Altar Society.

RELIEF FOR IRELAND.

The Executive Committee of the American Committee for Relief in Ireland has fixed March 17 to 23 as the period during which the people of the United States will be appealed to give aid to the distressed Irish people. It is planned to conduct an intensive money raising campaign in every State in the Union. During the past week the committee dispatched into twenty States expert organizers to lay plans for intensive drives in these States.

A letter sent to State organizations, summarizing the information as to conditions in Ireland, obtainable up to date, says that the number of men, women and children in want in Ireland totals 200,000, and that it is estimated that property damage to date on the devastated areas amounts from two to three hundred million dollars.

SCORN THE TRUTH.

The Courier-Journal, British propaganda organ, scorned the truth in reporting the address of Rev. Maurice Murphy, Dublin minister, delivered Tuesday night at the meeting of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic. Dr. Murphy did not say or intimate that 98 per cent. of Americans in any way favored the English Government, but quite the reverse, when he scored the propagandists, who look upon as real Americans only those who are first 98 per cent. British. The same paper also gleefully proclaims that the Irish Republic idea is seen dying, this news coming from London. Care is taken to exclude from its columns news from Ireland and everything bearing upon the atrocities being perpetrated by the Black and Tans and English army of occupation.

BUYS K. C. HUT.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building will be dedicated as a memorial to two Katonah boys who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. Father Scanlan is a nephew of P. L. Scanlan, 3224 West Broadway, General Superintendent of the Quaker Maid grocery corporation, and a classmate of Rev. Francis Duffy, of the famous Irish Sixty-ninth regiment.

Several weeks ago this paper printed an article about the end of the famous K. of C. hut that has stood for two years in Longacre Square, New York City. Instead of ending its useful career, the hut is but entering upon another and longer span of usefulness, for it has been purchased by the Rev. Martin A. Scanlan, pastor of St. Mary's church at Katonah, and will serve as a country school. The building